

2019 ACAM Key Leaders' Luncheon

Honoring 15 years of working collaboratively to accomplish more

The Alliance of Community Assistance Ministries, Inc. (ACAM) invites you to join Houston's leading philanthropic foundations and corporations in supporting ACAM's success by sponsoring our annual event for key leaders who are engaged in community building. This year, the event will feature Stephanie Land, author of Maid: Hard Work, Low Pay and a Mother's Will to Survive, which achieved #3 on the New York Times Best Sellers List less than a month after being published in January of 2019. Ms. Land is one of the nation's up-and-coming social and economic justice writers, and she is coming to Houston to share her story with ACAM's supporters!

"Many the evocative first-person narrative of Educated with the kind of social criticism seen in Milk and Honey and you'll get a sense of the remarkable book you hold in your hands... Timely, urgent, and unforgettable, this is memoir at its very best."
 —SUSANNAH CAHALAN, #1 New York Times bestselling author of Brain on Fire

Who We Are and What We Do

ACAM supports and empowers a network of faith-based, human service providers, who in turn help approximately 200,000 people every year, providing 135 different social services throughout five counties. ACAM leverages the assets of these community service providers and builds cross-sector partnerships toward collective impact, creating community-wide solutions for thriving nonprofits, neighborhoods, and families. Through ACAM, the network is increasing collaboration, promoting each other's development, raising service standards, innovating programs, and making a greater impact in the lives of low-income families across the region. Currently, the network's evidenced-based, collaborative programs focus on removing barriers to self-sufficiency in critical areas such as housing affordability and stability, access to health care, disaster recovery, and financial literacy and navigation. By working together with excellence and accountability, ACAM continues to pursue our vision of an innovative, connected network that ensures every family can find a path to stability, health, and wealth.
